

What if the 'senior' does not agree that he is being exploited and wants immediate removal of the 'hold'? How would that happen? What if the hold is done to prevent a logical decision by the senior which the 'trusted contact' does not agree with or which in some way works to the 'trusted contact's' disadvantage? The 'trusted contact', while they might not be able to manage the accounts in question, might well be affected by the results of the 'senior's' decision.

Leroy R Hayden, Jr
lrh58@hotmail.com