Chapter 1: Overview

Introduction

FINRA's Automated Data Delivery Service® (FINRA ADDS) is a secure website through which firms can request files containing transaction data submitted to the OTC Reporting Facility (ORF). Firms may use the data to help monitor their trading and reporting activity and support compliance procedures.

Through FINRA ADDS, firms may retrieve files containing their trading activity as well as any transactions rejected by the system. This document details the data fields to be provided in the Trades and Rejects files.

This document identifies and defines the fields to be provided in the Trades and Rejects files for ORF reporting. Updates to this document will be chronicled in the Revision History section of this document.

For questions concerning the information contained this document, please contact FINRA via email at datadelivery@finra.org

Chapter 2: File Format and Availability

Trades and Rejects files for ORF will be available on FINRA ADDS the next business day after the trade report date. Files will be made available in .zip format, and the data contained therein will be provided in comma separate value (.csv) files. Files are organized by date, MPID, and file type (i.e., Trades or Rejects).

Trades File

The Trades file contains the transactions reported for the requested date where the requesting MPID is present in any of the following fields:

- Reporting Party
- Reporting Party Give Up
- Contra Party
- Contra Party Give Up
