Re: IM 4613 - Computer Generated Quoting

Dear Mr. Corrao:

On March 20, 2003, The Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc. ("Nasdaq") issued an interpretation to Schwab Capital Markets L.P. ("Schwab") that its Computer Generated Quoting ("CGQ") system was consistent with IM 4613. The March 20th letter is effective until April 30, 2003.¹ In addition, the pilot program suspending the quote update limitations is due to expire on April 30, 2003. This letter extends the March 20th interpretive relief, without the quote update limitations, subject to the conditions described below.

Nasdaq originally granted Schwab and other market makers permission to utilize CGQ systems for a limited period of time so that Nasdaq could study how to allow market makers to use these systems in a manner that was consistent with Nasdaq's obligations to protect the integrity of its systems, as well as to protect investors and the public interest. In particular, Nasdaq needed to determine that these systems would not adversely impact Nasdaq system capacity and degrade overall performance its market. Based on its overall experience with market makers currently using approved CGQ systems, Nasdaq is extending Schwab's permission to utilize its CGQ system without any time limitation. In addition, Schwab can continue to utilize its CGQ system without any quote update limitations.

The relief granted in this letter is based solely on your representations and the facts presented by you to the staff, as well as Nasdaq's belief that providing Schwab with this relief will enhance market liquidity and is consistent with Nasdaq's obligation to protect the integrity of its systems, including preserving sufficient systems capacity, and to protect investors and the public interest. This interpretation is strictly limited to the application of NASD IM-4613 to Schwab's system described in its letter dated March 13,

1 The interpretive letters concerning IM 4613 are available in the Rule Interpretations section of the NASD website at www.nasd.com.

2003. In the event that any material change occurs with respect to any of those facts or representations as they relate to NASD IM-4613, you should immediately inform Nasdaq staff.

Schwab is permitted to use the CGQ system described above, subject to the following conditions:

- (1) Schwab will provide Nasdaq, at all times, a current list of securities (in an electronic, ASCII text format) for which it is employing its CGQ system;
- (2) Schwab will quote in a manner consistent with the autoquoting restriction set forth in Amendment 12 to the Nasdaq/UTP Plan, a copy of which is attached;
- (3) Schwab must be able to suspend its CGQ system quickly upon request from Nasdaq; and
- (4) Schwab's system must measure quote update rates, and provide such information to Nasdaq upon request.

This interpretive relief is subject to modification or revocation if at any time Nasdaq determines that such action is necessary or appropriate in furtherance of applicable laws or NASD rules, to protect the integrity of its systems, including preserving sufficient systems capacity, and to protect of investors and the public interest. Moreover, the interpretation may be revoked or modified, if Nasdaq determines that Schwab's computer generated quotation practices are having a material adverse impact on Nasdaq's systems capacity, such action is necessary for maintenance of fair and honest markets and the protection of investors, or that Schwab has not complied with any of the conditions described above. In addition, Nasdaq also may limit or terminate through its systems Schwab's ability to enter computer generated quotes. As you know, Nasdaq and NASD monitor for compliance with the conditions contained in this interpretive relief.

The opinions expressed herein are staff opinions only and have not been reviewed or endorsed by the board of Directors of Nasdaq or NASD Regulation, or the Board of Governors of the NASD. This letter responds only to the issues that you have raised, based on the facts as described, and does
