3. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

(a) Purpose

Rule Filing History

On August 26, 2004, NASD filed with the Commission proposed rule change SR-NASD-2004-130, proposing amendments to Rule 2320(g) and Rule 3110(b) to exclude from the Three Quote Rule's coverage transactions in foreign securities of a foreign issuer that are part of the FTSE World Index.

On May 8, 2006, NASD filed Amendment No. 1 to SR-NASD-2004-130 (“Amendment No. 1”) to change the proposed exclusion from the Three Quote Rule’s coverage transactions in foreign securities of a foreign issuer that are part of the FTSE All-World Index, rather than the FTSE World Index.³

On June 30, 2006, the Commission approved SR-NASD-2005-087, which amended certain NASD rules to reflect the separation of Nasdaq from NASD upon the operation of the Nasdaq Exchange as a national securities exchange.⁴ Among other amendments, SR-NASD-2005-087 amended Rules 2320(g) and 3110(b) to replace the term “non-Nasdaq securities” with “non-exchange-listed securities.” SR-NASD-2005-087 became effective on August 1, 2006, the date upon which Nasdaq began operation as an exchange for Nasdaq-listed securities.

Given the Commission’s approval of SR-NASD-2005-087, NASD is filing this Amendment No. 2 to SR-NASD-2004-130 (“Amendment No. 2”), which replaces and supersedes the prior filings in their entirety, to amend the proposed rule text and Purpose

³ The FTSE World Index is a sub-set of the FTSE All-World Index. The list of securities that comprise the FTSE All-World Index are substantially similar to the list of securities that comprise the FTSE World Index. The key difference is that the FTSE All-World Index is comprised of securities from Developed, Advanced Emerging and Secondary Emerging markets, whereas the FTSE World Index is comprised of securities from Developed and Advanced Emerging market segments only. The FTSE World Index, however, is no longer offered other than to existing FTSE subscribers. Given that the FTSE World Index would not be widely accessible, NASD amended its filing accordingly. See Exhibit 2 for additional details.

The information in this proposed rule change and in Exhibit 2 hereto relating to the FTSE All-World Index is based on information published on FTSE’s Web site at www.ftse.com, as well as from conversations with FTSE staff.

section of the rule filing to reflect Nasdaq's operation as an exchange, among other clarifying changes.

Proposal

The Three Quote Rule originally was adopted on May 2, 1988,⁵ as an amendment to NASD's best execution interpretation and generally requires that members that execute transactions in non-exchange-listed securities⁶ on behalf of customers contact a minimum of three dealers (or all dealers if three or less) and obtain quotations, if there are fewer than two quotations displayed on an inter-dealer quotation system that permits quotation updates on a real-time basis. The Three Quote Rule further defined a member's best execution obligation to customers by setting forth additional requirements for transactions in non-exchange-listed securities, particularly transactions involving relatively illiquid securities with non-transparent prices. The Three Quote Rule is a minimum standard, and compliance with the rule, in and of itself, does not mean a member has met its best execution obligations.

Since the adoption of the Three Quote Rule, the market for non-exchange-listed securities has changed significantly. NASD has found that under certain circumstances, the Three Quote Rule often can hinder, rather than further, best execution by causing significant delays in obtaining executions of customer orders. For example, in 2000, NASD amended the Three Quote Rule to eliminate the requirement to contact three market makers when there are at least two priced quotations displayed in an inter-dealer quotation system that permits quotation updates on a real-time basis.⁷ NASD concluded that, where there were two transparent, firm quotes, the costs associated with delayed executions resulting from compliance with the Three Quote Rule were not outweighed by the benefits of obtaining three telephone quotes.

⁵ See Exchange Act Release No. 25637 (May 2, 1988), 53 FR 16488 (May 9, 1988).

⁶ The Three Quote Rule applies to transactions in all non-exchange-listed securities. A non-exchange-listed security is defined in NASD Rule 6610 as "any equity security that is not traded on any national securities exchange. . . ." Therefore, the rule by its terms applies to transactions effected on any foreign exchange. The term "national securities exchange" is not defined in NASD rules, but the requirements to qualify are set forth in Sections 6(a) and 19(a) of the Act. See also Exchange Act Release No. 39266 (Oct. 22, 1997), 62 FR 56217 (Oct. 29, 1997).

Similar concerns have been raised with respect to the Three Quote Rule's application in the area of orders in foreign securities of foreign issuers. Certain members and other interested parties had raised concerns that the Three Quote Rule was unnecessary and potentially harmful to the customer's best interests when a member, using reasonable diligence, has determined that the best market for a foreign security is a foreign market where the securities trade with sufficient liquidity and transparency.

NASD staff agreed that the protections of the Three Quote Rule may not be necessary with respect to all orders in foreign securities. In fact, the SEC, in its approval order granting NASD exemptive authority with respect to the Three Quote Rule, specifically indicated that exemptive relief may be appropriate for transactions executed on a foreign exchange.⁸ The SEC stated that exemptive relief may be appropriate in such circumstances because the foreign exchange may constitute the best market for securities that are listed on that market and the time delay involved in contacting three dealers may, therefore, hinder a member from obtaining best execution for the customers.⁹

Accordingly, NASD is proposing amendments that would exclude from the Three Quote Rule's coverage transactions effected in foreign securities of foreign issuers that are part of the FTSE All-World Index.¹⁰ Therefore, under the proposed rule change, a member would not be required to obtain three quotes in connection with transactions in foreign securities that are part of the FTSE All-World Index. The proposed rule change would not require that the transaction be executed on a foreign market so as not to limit the member's ability to determine, in fulfilling its best execution obligations, that a better execution would be obtained off the foreign market. However, to qualify for the exemption, the transaction must be executed during regular business hours of the foreign market for the security and no trading halt or other similar trading or quotation restriction may be in effect in any foreign market on which such foreign security is listed.¹¹

¹⁰ The Financial Times and the London Stock Exchange operate the FTSE All-World Index. The FTSE All-World Index includes 48 different countries and approximately 3,000 stocks. See Exhibit 2 for a detailed description of the criteria used to determine the FTSE All-World Index.

¹¹ Contingent upon approval of the proposed rule change, NASD staff plans to withdraw all existing exemptions it has granted to the Three Quote Rule that relate to foreign securities. NASD staff has granted seven exemptions for customer transactions in Canadian securities executed on a Canadian exchange on an agency or riskless principal basis. (See, e.g., Letter to Mr. Kenneth W. Perlman, General Counsel, Mayer Schweitzer, Inc. from Alden S. Adkins, Senior Vice President and General Counsel.)

NASD has selected the FTSE All-World Index in part because the SEC staff has deemed the foreign securities that are listed on the FTSE World Index, a subset of the FTSE All-World Index, as having a “ready market” and therefore eligible to receive comparable favorable treatment to U.S. equity securities under the securities haircut¹² provisions of the SEC’s net capital rule.¹³ In addition, the Federal Reserve Board recognizes the FTSE World Index for determining whether stocks are eligible for margin treatment. NASD believes that the criteria used in determining the composition of the FTSE World Index, which is substantially the same for the FTSE All-World Index, helps to ensure that the securities trade with a high degree of liquidity, consistency, and price transparency.¹⁴

Importantly, while the proposed rule change would not require a member to obtain three quotes in connection with transactions in foreign securities that are part of the FTSE All-World Index, members would continue to be required to comply with their best execution obligations under Rule 2320, and to the extent applicable, their suitability obligations under Rule 2310.

¹³ See 1993 SEC No-Act LEXIS 967 (Aug. 13, 1993) (regarding foreign equity issues listed on the FT-Actuaries World Index as having a ready market with respect to the ready market and haircut provisions of the SEC’s net capital rule). Note: Calculation of the FT/S&P Actuaries World Index was taken over by FTSE in November 1999 and renamed, the FTSE World Index, which is a subset of the FTSE All-World Index.

The proposed rule change also would provide a corresponding exclusion to the recordkeeping requirements set forth in Rule 3110(b) relating to the Three Quote Rule if the member can establish and document its reliance on this exclusion. Rule 3110(b) requires that members indicate on the order ticket for each transaction in a non-exchange-listed security the name of each dealer contacted and the quotations received to determine the best inter-dealer market as required by the Three Quote Rule.

In addition, NASD no longer refers to its subsidiary, NASD Regulation, Inc., using its full corporate name, “NASD Regulation” or NASD Regulation, Inc.” Instead, NASD uses “NASD” unless otherwise appropriate for corporate or regulatory reasons. Accordingly, the proposed rule change replaces one reference to “NASD Regulation” in the text of the proposed rule change with “NASD.”

Finally, NASD will announce the effective date of the proposed rule change in a Notice to Members to be published no later than 60 days following Commission approval. The effective date will be 30 days following publication of the Notice to Members announcing Commission approval.

(b) Statutory Basis

NASD believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the provisions of Section 15A(b)(6) of the Act,¹⁵ which requires, among other things, that NASD rules must be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest. NASD believes that the proposed rule change will reduce the time and effort necessary in contacting three dealers in orders for foreign securities of certain foreign issuers where it has been demonstrated that such securities are trading with sufficient liquidity and price transparency.

4. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

NASD does not believe that the proposed rule change will result in any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

5. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received from Members, Participants, or Others

Written comments were neither solicited nor received.

6. Extension of Time Period for Commission Action

NASD does not consent at this time to an extension of the time period for Commission action specified in Section 19(b)(2) of the Act.¹⁶

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, NASD included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. NASD has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

Rule Filing History

On August 26, 2004, NASD filed with the Commission proposed rule change SR-NASD-2004-130, proposing amendments to Rule 2320(g) and Rule 3110(b) to exclude from the Three Quote Rule's coverage transactions in foreign securities of a foreign issuer that are part of the FTSE World Index.

On May 8, 2006, NASD filed Amendment No. 1 to SR-NASD-2004-130 ("Amendment No. 1") to change the proposed exclusion from the Three Quote Rule's coverage transactions in foreign securities of a foreign issuer that are part of the FTSE All-World Index, rather than the FTSE World Index.⁵

On June 30, 2006, the Commission approved SR-NASD-2005-087, which amended certain NASD rules to reflect the separation of Nasdaq from NASD upon the operation of the Nasdaq Exchange as a national securities exchange.⁶ Among other amendments, SR-NASD-2005-087 amended Rules 2320(g) and 3110(b) to replace the term "non-Nasdaq securities" with "non-exchange-listed securities." SR-NASD-2005-087 became effective on August 1, 2006, the date upon which Nasdaq began operation as an exchange for Nasdaq-listed securities.

⁵ The FTSE World Index is a sub-set of the FTSE All-World Index. The list of securities that comprise the FTSE All-World Index are substantially similar to the list of securities that comprise the FTSE World Index. The key difference is that the FTSE All-World Index is comprised of securities from Developed, Advanced Emerging and Secondary Emerging markets, whereas the FTSE World Index is comprised of securities from Developed and Advanced Emerging market segments only. The FTSE World Index, however, is no longer offered other than to existing FTSE subscribers. Given that the FTSE World Index would not be widely accessible, NASD amended its filing accordingly. See Exhibit 2 for additional details.

The information in this proposed rule change and in Exhibit 2 hereto relating to the FTSE All-World Index is based on information published on FTSE's Web site at www.ftse.com, as well as from conversations with FTSE staff.

⁶ See Securities Exchange Act Release No. 54084 (June 30, 2006), 71 FR 38935 (July 10, 2006).

Given the Commission's approval of SR-NASD-2005-087, NASD is filing this Amendment No. 2 to SR-NASD-2004-130 ("Amendment No. 2"), which replaces and supersedes the prior filings in their entirety, to amend the proposed rule text and Purpose section of the rule filing to reflect Nasdaq's operation as an exchange, among other clarifying changes.

Proposal

The Three Quote Rule originally was adopted on May 2, 1988,⁷ as an amendment to NASD's best execution interpretation and generally requires that members that execute transactions in non-exchange-listed securities⁸ on behalf of customers contact a minimum of three dealers (or all dealers if three or less) and obtain quotations, if there are fewer than two quotations displayed on an inter-dealer quotation system that permits quotation updates on a real-time basis. The Three Quote Rule further defined a member's best execution obligation to customers by setting forth additional requirements for transactions in non-exchange-listed securities, particularly transactions involving relatively illiquid securities with non-transparent prices. The Three Quote Rule is a minimum standard, and compliance with the rule, in and of itself, does not mean a member has met its best execution obligations.

⁷ See Exchange Act Release No. 25637 (May 2, 1988), 53 FR 16488 (May 9, 1988).

⁸ The Three Quote Rule applies to transactions in all non-exchange-listed securities. A non-exchange-listed security is defined in NASD Rule 6610 as "any equity security that is not traded on any national securities exchange. . . ." Therefore, the rule by its terms applies to transactions effected on any foreign exchange. The term "national securities exchange" is not defined in NASD rules, but the requirements to qualify are set forth in Sections 6(a) and 19(a) of the Act. See also Exchange Act Release No. 39266 (Oct. 22, 1997), 62 FR 56217 (Oct. 29, 1997).

Since the adoption of the Three Quote Rule, the market for non-exchange-listed securities has changed significantly. NASD has found that under certain circumstances, the Three Quote Rule often can hinder, rather than further, best execution by causing significant delays in obtaining executions of customer orders. For example, in 2000, NASD amended the Three Quote Rule to eliminate the requirement to contact three market makers when there are at least two priced quotations displayed in an inter-dealer quotation system that permits quotation updates on a real-time basis.⁹ NASD concluded that, where there were two transparent, firm quotes, the costs associated with delayed executions resulting from compliance with the Three Quote Rule were not outweighed by the benefits of obtaining three telephone quotes.

Similar concerns have been raised with respect to the Three Quote Rule's application in the area of orders in foreign securities of foreign issuers. Certain members and other interested parties had raised concerns that the Three Quote Rule was unnecessary and potentially harmful to the customer's best interests when a member, using reasonable diligence, has determined that the best market for a foreign security is a foreign market where the securities trade with sufficient liquidity and transparency.

⁹ See Exchange Act Release No. 43319 (Sept. 21, 2000), 65 FR 58589 (Sept. 29, 2000) (File No. SR-NASD-00-20). This rule change also alleviated the corresponding recordkeeping requirements under Rule 3110(b) where NASD could validate and confirm compliance with applicable requirements directly through its internal historical data.

NASD staff agreed that the protections of the Three Quote Rule may not be necessary with respect to all orders in foreign securities. In fact, the SEC, in its approval order granting NASD exemptive authority with respect to the Three Quote Rule, specifically indicated that exemptive relief may be appropriate for transactions executed on a foreign exchange.¹⁰ The SEC stated that exemptive relief may be appropriate in such circumstances because the foreign exchange may constitute the best market for securities that are listed on that market and the time delay involved in contacting three dealers may, therefore, hinder a member from obtaining best execution for the customers.¹¹

Accordingly, NASD is proposing amendments that would exclude from the Three Quote Rule's coverage transactions effected in foreign securities of foreign issuers that are part of the FTSE All-World Index.¹² Therefore, under the proposed rule change, a member would not be required to obtain three quotes in connection with transactions in foreign securities that are part of the FTSE All-World Index. The proposed rule change would not require that the transaction be executed on a foreign market so as not to limit the member's ability to determine, in fulfilling its best execution obligations, that a better execution would be obtained off the foreign market. However, to qualify for the exemption, the transaction must be executed during regular business hours of the foreign market for the security and no trading halt or other similar trading or quotation restriction may be in effect in any foreign market on which such foreign security is listed.¹³

NASD has selected the FTSE All-World Index in part because the SEC staff has deemed the foreign securities that are listed on the FTSE World Index, a subset of the FTSE All-World Index, as having a “ready market” and therefore eligible to receive comparable favorable treatment to U.S. equity securities under the securities haircut¹⁴ provisions of the SEC’s net capital rule.¹⁵ In addition, the Federal Reserve Board recognizes the FTSE World Index for determining whether stocks are eligible for margin treatment. NASD believes that the criteria used in determining the composition of the FTSE World Index, which is substantially the same for the FTSE All-World Index, helps

¹³ Contingent upon approval of the proposed rule change, NASD staff plans to withdraw all existing exemptions it has granted to the Three Quote Rule that relate to foreign securities. NASD staff has granted seven exemptions for customer transactions in Canadian securities executed on a Canadian exchange on an agency or riskless principal basis. (See, e.g., Letter to Mr. Kenneth W. Perlman, General Counsel, Mayer Schweitzer, Inc. from Alden S. Adkins, Senior Vice President and General Counsel.)

¹⁵ See 1993 SEC No-Act LEXIS 967 (Aug. 13, 1993) (regarding foreign equity issues listed on the FT-Actuaries World Index as having a ready market with respect to the ready market and haircut provisions of the SEC’s net capital rule). Note: Calculation of the FT/S&P Actuaries World Index was taken over by FTSE in November 1999 and renamed, the FTSE World Index, which is a subset of the FTSE All-World Index.

to ensure that the securities trade with a high degree of liquidity, consistency, and price transparency.¹⁶

Importantly, while the proposed rule change would not require a member to obtain three quotes in connection with transactions in foreign securities that are part of the FTSE All-World Index, members would continue to be required to comply with their best execution obligations under Rule 2320, and to the extent applicable, their suitability obligations under Rule 2310.

The proposed rule change also would provide a corresponding exclusion to the recordkeeping requirements set forth in Rule 3110(b) relating to the Three Quote Rule if the member can establish and document its reliance on this exclusion. Rule 3110(b) requires that members indicate on the order ticket for each transaction in a non-exchange-listed security the name of each dealer contacted and the quotations received to determine the best inter-dealer market as required by the Three Quote Rule.

In addition, NASD no longer refers to its subsidiary, NASD Regulation, Inc., using its full corporate name, “NASD Regulation” or NASD Regulation, Inc.” Instead, NASD uses “NASD” unless otherwise appropriate for corporate or regulatory reasons. Accordingly, the proposed rule change replaces one reference to “NASD Regulation” in the text of the proposed rule change with “NASD.”

Finally, NASD will announce the effective date of the proposed rule change in a Notice to Members to be published no later than 60 days following Commission approval. The effective date will be 30 days following publication of the Notice to Members announcing Commission approval.

2. Statutory Basis

NASD believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the provisions of Section 15A(b)(6) of the Act,¹⁷ which requires, among other things, that NASD rules must be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest. NASD believes that the proposed rule change will reduce the time and effort necessary in contacting three dealers in orders for foreign securities of certain foreign issuers where it has been demonstrated that such securities are trading with sufficient liquidity and price transparency.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

NASD does not believe that the proposed rule change will result in any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received from Members, Participants, or Others

Written comments were neither solicited nor received.

FTSE All-World Index¹

The FTSE All-World Index, which is a subset of the FTSE Global Equity Index,² includes 48 different countries and approximately 3,000 stocks. The FTSE All-World Index is governed by a set of Ground Rules,³ which establishes, among other things, the construction and maintenance of the index, the review criteria for the index constituents⁴ as well as additions and deletions to the index. These Ground Rules have been approved and reviewed by an independent committee of market professionals, the FTSE Equity Indices Committee.⁵ The FTSE Equity Indices Committee also handles such matters as conducting reviews, changing the Ground Rules, and deciding on the treatment of complex corporate actions.

Inclusion Criteria

As noted above, the FTSE All-World Index consists of 48 countries.⁶ To be included in the FTSE All-World Index, a country must meet eligibility requirements. In this regard,

² The FTSE Global Equity Index includes 48 different countries and over 7,000 stocks, capturing 98% of the world's investable market capitalization. As noted above, the FTSE All-World Index is a subset of the FTSE Global Equity Index. Unlike the FTSE All-World Index, however, the FTSE Global Equity Index includes small cap stocks. See also note 15.

³ A single set of ground rules applies to the FTSE All-World Index, the FTSE Global Equity Index and the FTSE World Index. The FTSE World Index, which is a subset of the FTSE All-World Index, is a successor to the FT/S&P Actuaries World Index. Calculation of the FT/S&P Actuaries World Index was taken over by FTSE in November 1999 and renamed, the FTSE World Index.

⁴ The term "constituents" refers to those securities comprising the FTSE All-World Index.

⁶ A list of the countries comprising the FTSE All-World Index can be found on FTSE's Web site at www.ftse.com.

the countries listed in the index are those that have met the country inclusion criteria set forth in the Grounds Rules. Specifically, before a country can be included in the FTSE All-World Index, the country must meet each of the following criteria: (1) permits direct investment by non-nationals; (2) has accurate and timely data available; (3) no significant exchange controls that would prevent the timely repatriation of capital or dividends; (4) demonstration of significant international investor interest in the local equity market; and (5) existence of adequate liquidity in the market. The countries that remain are grouped into seven regions⁷ and form the country universe in the FTSE All-World Index.⁸ After forming the country universe, each company is then allocated to a single country, which is consistent across all FTSE indices. Allocations are generally based on their state of incorporation and primary listing market.

Within each country, companies are then filtered based on securities market eligibility.⁹ Securities listed on a stock exchange or recognized market are generally eligible for inclusion. After conducting the securities market filter, companies are then removed if ⁷ The seven regions are (1) Asia Pacific (except Japan), (2) Developed Europe, (3) Emerging Europe, (4) Japan, (5) Latin America, (6) Middle East and Africa and (7) North America. A list of the countries that are included in each region can be found on FTSE's Web site at www.ftse.com.

Country classifications, which are reviewed on a regular basis by the FTSE Regional Committee, are subject to change depending on the primary and secondary factors discussed above. The FTSE Equity Indices Committee publishes a watch list of countries being monitored for changing country classifications. At least three months prior notice is generally provided before changing a country's classification. See supra note 22 for a discussion of the FTSE Regional Committees.

⁹ A list of the eligible markets and exchanges within each country is available on FTSE's Web site at www.ftse.com.

the securities do not meet the security class eligibility criteria for inclusion in the index.¹⁰ With respect to security class eligibility, most equity securities as well as shares listed on a stock exchange or recognized market are eligible for inclusion in the index. Exchange traded funds, companies whose share price is a direct derivation of the value of underlying holdings, convertible preference shares and loan stocks are excluded from the index.

Then, all of the eligible securities are ranked by full market capitalization. Companies that fall in the bottom 2% of each region by market capitalization are then excluded; thus, 98% of each region by market capitalization remains, forming the Index Universe. In determining which securities to include in the FTSE All-World Index, eligible securities are subject to three investibility screens. The first screen is a size screen that excludes those companies with a market capitalization of less than $100 million. The second screen is a liquidity screen that requires that companies trade at least 0.5% of their shares in issue per month in ten out the twelve months prior to review.¹¹ In the third screen, each constituent is subjected to a free float screen.¹² If a security has a free float of less than 5%, it will not be eligible for the index.¹³ The remaining securities form the constituents of the FTSE Global Equity Index. Then, the constituents of the FTSE All-

World Index are formed¹⁴ from the wider FTSE Global Equity Index by excluding the FTSE Global Small Cap Index.¹⁵

Then, all constituents of the FTSE All-World Index are assigned to either the Large Cap index or Mid Cap index depending on their ranking.¹⁶ To determine the appropriate capitalization index within the FTSE All-World Index, securities are ranked by market capitalization within each region. Those companies at or above 68% of the Index Universe are included in the Large Cap index for the region. Those companies ranked below 68% but within the top 86% of the Index Universe by capitalization will be included in the Mid Cap index for the region.¹⁷

Regional Reviews

Existing constituents are subject to regular reviews¹⁸ to determine if they continue to meet the foregoing criteria.¹⁹ Reviews are done by region on an annual basis. With

¹⁵ The FTSE Global Small Cap Index, which is a subset of the FTSE Global Equity Index, includes 48 countries and over 4,300 securities. The FTSE Global Small Cap Index captures the bottom 10% of the seven regional markets in the FTSE Global Equity Index. Whereas, the FTSE All-World Index captures the top 90% of the seven regional markets in the FTSE Global Equity Index.

¹⁶ FTSE provides Large Cap, Mid Cap and Small Cap indices. The FTSE All-World Index does not include small cap securities. See infra note 15.

¹⁸ A timetable for the review of the regions within the FTSE All-World Index can be found on FTSE’s Web site at www.ftse.com.

respect to the country eligibility requirements, countries are usually reviewed annually based on country inclusion criteria described above. As part of the annual review, existing constituents are also subjected to the capitalization ranking and the three investibility screens described above. In addition, existing index constituents are reviewed to determine if they continue to meet the capitalization criteria for the Large Cap or Mid Cap index, as applicable, or if they need to be adjusted upward or downward or excluded entirely.

Other Reviews

In addition to the regional review cycle, securities may be added to or deleted from the FTSE All-World Index based on the Fast Exit and Fast Entry Ground Rules. With respect to the Fast Exit Rule, existing constituents not undergoing a full review are tested quarterly to determine if the constituent either (1) is valued at less than $75 million by full market capitalization for two consecutive quarters or (2) falls below 99% of the Regional Universe by full market capitalization for two consecutive quarters.²⁰ If a constituent meets either threshold, then it is ineligible for inclusion and will be removed from the index. Under the Fast Entry Rule, constituents are added if they meet certain criteria, depending on whether they fall within the Developed, Advanced Emerging and Secondary Emerging. Securities may also be deleted from the list of constituents at other times: (1) for a change in circumstances concerning investability; (2) if any of the other selection criteria would make it ineligible if a full review were conducted; or (3) the constituent is delisted from its stock exchange or becomes bankrupt, insolvent or liquidated.²¹

Provided a country complies with the foregoing criteria for inclusion, the FTSE Regional and FTSE Equity Indices Committees may add a new country to the FTSE All-World Index at any time after a prior announcement.²² A country may be suspended or deleted if it fails to meet one or more of the foregoing country eligibility criteria. A decision to delete a country is considered by the appropriate FTSE Regional Committee and then approved by the FTSE Equity Indices Committee.
