

It has been brought to my attention that a group of brokers are attempting to have the leverage in the forex market mandated to 1.5 to 1.

Being a small player in the forex market for several years I wanted to let you know that I am opposed to this move. The movement of the market will, by itself, weed out those players, and brokers, without forcing the leverage mandate on all.

Bob Lannon