Hello,

Thank you for allowing the retail investor to have an audience in submitting our opinion!

As an average Joe, retail investor, that works a 50 hour week job and is trying to save for retirement and pay taxes and hopefully invest wisely, I would like to request the following...

1. Daily short position reporting required.
2. No dark pool trading. All trades should be clearly visible to all parties participating in the same market!
3. Default requirement for stock holder' shares in a long position to be set to NOT allow borrowing or lending of their shares.
4. DAILY reporting of any synthetic shorts created through sale of a call option and purchase of a put option or any other strategies.
5. Lastly....just make things fair. Level the playing field for us. The system shouldn't be rigged against the little guy. Please put rules in place that prevent cheating or manipulation in general.

Thank you,
Anthony Bucci
