Why aren't the hedge funds covering their short positions and FTDs. Why are they allowed to blatantly manipulate the price of a stock with latter attacks. Why doesnt a stock keep going up if the majority of people are buying and not selling. Why are they allowed to short and short stocks that dont even exist. Why are they allowed to buy trade information and hold orders for days on end?!?!?! Why and how are they getting away with all of this!!!!!!!!!! Why do we have to feel discouraged to invest in companies that a majority believes in because we get lead to believe we are giving it value only to manipulate the price bring it down and loose money in the process.
