Hi,

Thank you for your time. Please act on this soon. Hedge funds, institutions, and the SEC have been in bed with each other robbing the retail world for years with their practices. It is only speeding up. AMC, GME, among other "meme stock" tickers are being targeted using illegal practices. How can we allow 70% of the transactions to go through the dark pools? Is that not indicative of them trying to hide the real price from the consumer or retail investor? It has gone on too long, it is time to do something right for once and stop these actions from happening any longer.

Sincerely,
