To whom it may concern:

I am one of those pesky retail investors. You know the kind, the kind that wants to have the same shot as the big guys. I do my due diligence and I research every trade I make.

Here is just an example of my pesky gripes.

Concerning short selling; short positions should be made public, just like long positions, long calls etc. Also 2 weeks lag in reporting short interest is not acceptable.

I would ask for reform in this area.

Sincerely,
Rickie Pauley
