

I support the proposed rules:

FINRA believes the proposed In re expungement rules would provide unnamed persons with a method to seek redress concerning allegations that could impact their livelihoods, yet maintain the protections of FINRA's expungement rules to ensure the integrity of the CRD records, on which the investing public relies.

L. Green