

As an investor I am strongly opposed to any new government regulations and possible exposure to unauthorized persons having access to my personal information. I am also opposed to any new government agency charges which I will have to pay directly or indirectly to implement this type of procedure. This is government regulation to add new jobs that are not needed.

Robert L Weiss