NASD Restructures Certain TRACE Fees for Market Data and Amends the Definition of “Non-Professional” in Connection with TRACE Market Data; Effective Date: June 1, 2005

Executive Summary

On April 26, 2005, the SEC approved amendments to Rule 7010(k) relating to Trade Reporting and Compliance Engine (TRACE) market data to restructure fees for TRACE market data, to amend the definition of “Non-Professional” in connection with TRACE market data, and to make other conforming or minor, technical changes to the rule (the amendments).¹ In amended Rule 7010(k)(3)(A)(ii), NASD establishes a new fee, the Vendor Real-Time Data Feed Fee, which allows TRACE data subscribers to receive a real-time feed of TRACE transaction data (Real-Time Feed) that the subscriber may use in multiple applications. The Vendor Real-Time Data Feed Fee is $1,500 per month, except for qualifying Tax-Exempt Organizations. Amended Rule 7010(k)(3)(A)(iii) provides that qualifying Tax-Exempt Organizations will pay $400 per month, but will be subject to significant restrictions on their use of the Real-Time Feed.

Also, NASD is eliminating two market data fees, the $500 per month Bond Trade Dissemination Service (BTDS) Internal Usage Authorization Fee (per application or use) and the $1,000 per month BTDS External Usage Authorization Fee (per application or use), amending the defined term Non-Professional in Rule 7010(k)(3)(C)(i) in connection with TRACE market data, and making other conforming or minor, technical amendments to Rule 7010(k).

Rule 7010(k), as amended, is set forth in Attachment A. The effective date of the amendments is June 1, 2005.

Discussion

The amendments restructure and streamline TRACE market data fees and otherwise amend Rule 7010(k) as follows.

New TRACE Market Data Fee. In amended Rule 7010(k)(3)(A)(ii), NASD establishes a new TRACE market data fee, the Vendor Real-Time Data Feed Fee, which is $1,500 per month. (The fee is reduced to $400 per month for qualifying Tax-Exempt Organizations that use the Real-Time Feed solely to provide Non-Professionals access to the TRACE market data at no charge.) The Vendor Real-Time Data Feed Fee allows TRACE data subscribers to receive a Real-Time Feed that the subscriber may use in an unlimited number of internal and external applications.²

Two TRACE Market Data Fees Terminated. The amendments terminate the BTDS Internal Usage Authorization Fee and the BTDS External Usage Authorization Fee. Both the fees, in contrast to the new Vendor Real-Time Data Feed Fee, limited a TRACE data subscriber to a single use or application of a TRACE data feed. The Vendor Real-Time Data Feed Fee replaces both fees.

Tax-Exempt Organization. The term Tax-Exempt Organization is defined in Rule 7010(k)(3)(C)(ii). Qualifying organizations that meet the requirements of the definition and the restrictions on use in Rule 7010(k)(3)(A)(iii) may acquire the Real-Time Feed at the reduced fee of $400 per month.

Non-Professional. The definition of the term Non-Professional in Rule 7010(k)(3)(C)(i), which is used in connection with TRACE market data, is amended to permit natural persons, such as persons registered with the SEC, to use TRACE market data without charge, when the use is personal and noncommercial.³

Also, NASD made other minor, technical amendments to Rule 7010(k), which are incorporated in the amended rule text in Attachment A.
Effective Date

The effective date of the amendments is June 1, 2005.

Endnotes

2 The Vendor Real-Time Data Feed Fee in amended Rule 7010(k)(3)(A)(ii) does not include NASD’s monthly charge for each desktop or other interrogation display device receiving the Real-Time Feed. See Rule 7010(k)(3)(A)(i).

3 Members are advised that NASD intends to file shortly a further technical amendment to the defined term Non-Professional in Rule 7010(k) to heighten uniformity across its rules and facilitate internal data collection practices. This future amendment to the term Non-Professional will not substantively affect Rule 7010(k)’s requirements, as amended.
