

regulatory organization has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

Nasdaq is proposing to extend its current SelectNet fees. The reasons for Nasdaq's prevailing SelectNet fee structure were fully explained in its original fee structure proposal filed with the Commission in February of this year.² Since then, SelectNet usage has continued at significantly elevated levels, averaging over 100,000 daily executions in both February and March of 1998. As such, Nasdaq believes that an extension of these reduced fees, through August 31, 1998, is warranted. Under the proposed extension, SelectNet fees would continue to be assessed in the following manner: (1) $1.00 will be charged for each SelectNet order entered and directed to one particular market participant that is subsequently executed in whole or in part; (2) no fee will be charged to a member who receives and executes a directed SelectNet order; (3) the existing $2.50 fee will remain in effect for both sides of executed SelectNet orders that result from broadcast messages; and (4) a $0.25 fee will remain in effect for any member who cancels a SelectNet order. Nasdaq will continue to monitor and review SelectNet activity to determine if future changes to its SelectNet fee structure are appropriate. If no further action is taken, SelectNet fees will revert to their original $2.50 per-side level on September 1, 1998.

For the reason set forth above, Nasdaq believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with Section 15A(b)(5) of the Act,³ which requires that the rules of the NASD provide for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility or system which the NASD operates or controls.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The NASD believes that the proposed rule change will not result in any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants, or Others

Comments were neither solicited or received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

This filing applies to the assessment of SelectNet fees to NASD members, and thus the proposed rule change is effective immediately upon filing pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii) of the Act and subparagraph (e)(2) of Rule 19b-4 thereunder⁴ because the proposal is establishing or changing a due, fee or other charge. At any time within 60 days of the proposed rule change, the Commission may summarily abrogate such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest, for the protection of investors, or otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.⁵

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposal is consistent with the Act. Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW, Washington, DC 20549. Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying in the Commission's Public Reference Room. Copies of such filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the principal office of the NASD. All submissions should refer to the File No. SR-NASD-98-37 and should be submitted by June 29, 1998.

For the Commission, by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.⁶

Deputy Secretary.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[Release No. 34-40048; File No. SR-NASD-98-35]

Self-Regulatory Organizations; Notice of Filing and Order Granting Accelerated Approval of Proposed Rule Change of Proposed Rule Change by National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., Concerning Books and Records Requirements

May 29, 1998.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act")¹ and Rule 19b-4² thereunder, notice is hereby given that on May 14, 1998, the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD" or "Association"), filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC" or "Commission") the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by NASD Regulation, Inc. ("NASD Regulation").³ The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons and to grant accelerated approval of the proposed rule change.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

NASD Regulation is proposing to amend Rule 3110 (the "Books and Records Rule") of the Conduct Rules of the NASD to: (1) amend the definition of "institutional account" to include the accounts of investment advisers that under the National Securities Markets Improvements Act of 1996⁴ and new rules adopted by the SEC, are now

ii. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the NASD included statements concerning the purpose of, and basis for, the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in Item IV below. NASD Regulation has prepared summaries, set forth in Sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Background

The Books and Records Rule requires members to obtain certain information for all accounts. In addition, the Rule requires that for accounts other than institutional accounts and accounts limited to money market funds members must make reasonable attempts to obtain: (i) a customer's tax identification or social security number; (ii) a customer's occupation and the name and address of the employer; and (iii) information about whether the customer is an associated person of another member ("Retail Customer Information"). An "institutional account" is defined in the Rule to include the account of an investment adviser registered with the SEC.

a. Accounts of Registered Investment Advisers. The National Securities Markets Improvement Act of 1996⁵ and new rules recently adopted by the SEC under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 ("Advisers Act")⁶ allocate regulatory oversight of investment advisers between the SEC and the states. Under the new rules, investment advisers to registered investment companies and investment advisers with assets under management of at least $25 million generally will register exclusively with the SEC. Most other investment advisers will register exclusively with the states.

The Books and Records Rule provides that for purposes of both the Books and Records Rule and NASD Conduct Rule 2310 ("Suitability Rule"), the term "institutional account" includes the account of an investment adviser registered with the SEC.

Consequently, advisory accounts that were considered to be "institutional accounts" when the Retail Customer Information provision in the Books and Records Rule was adopted now are technically excluded from the definition because they have migrated to state regulation.

b. Accounts Limited to Mutual Fund Shares. At its meeting on February 23, 1998, the Investment Companies Committee, a standing committee of the NASD Regulation Board of Directors, considered a proposal by the NASD Regulation staff to amend the Books and Records Rule to exclude directly marketed mutual funds from the obligation to obtain Retail Customer Information. The Committee concurred with the NASD Regulation staff's conclusion that the requirement to obtain Retail Customer Information is burdensome and largely unnecessary as it applies to members who distribute directly marketed mutual funds and other unsolicited accounts that are limited to mutual fund shares and for which no recommendations are made. A primary purpose of obtaining Retail Customer Information is to help a member evaluate the suitability of a recommendation. Consequently, the same regulatory requirement does not apply with respect to accounts that are limited to mutual funds and for which no recommendations are made. Members would continue to be required to make reasonable efforts to obtain Retail Customer Information for retail accounts that are not subject to these limitations. At its meeting on March 19, 1998, the NASD Regulation Board of Directors approved proposed changes to amend NASD Conduct Rule 3110 and authorized the filing of the proposed rule change with the SEC.

⁶ 15 U.S.C. 80b (1994).

2. Purpose

a. Institutional Account Definition. The Books and Records Rule requires members to maintain certain information for all retail and institutional customer accounts. For retail accounts that are not limited to money market funds, members also must make reasonable efforts to obtain Retail Customer Information. Members do not have to seek this information with respect to their institutional accounts.

Similarly, the Suitability Rule requires members to make reasonable efforts to obtain certain information, such as the customer's financial status and investment objectives, from retail customers prior to the execution of a transaction. IM-2310-3 describes members' suitability obligation in making recommendations to institutional customers. The primary considerations under IM-2310-3 include the customer's capability to evaluate risk independently and the extent to which individual judgment is exercised when making investment decisions.

The proposed rule change would continue to treat the state-regulated advisory accounts as "institutional accounts" for purposes of the Books and Records Rule and the Suitability Rule. The proposed rule change also would amend the Books and Records Rule to take into account the bifurcation of investment advisers regulation between the SEC and the states by changing the definition of "institutional account" to include both investment advisers required to register with the SEC and those required to register with the states.

b. Accounts Limited to Transactions in Mutual Fund Shares. The requirement in the Books and Records Rule to obtain customer employment information was designed to assist members in making suitable recommendations. This information is unnecessary for those accounts that are limited to mutual fund transactions that are not recommended by the member or its associated persons. With regard to the requirement in the Books and Records Rule to obtain a customer's tax identification or social security number, the tax laws already impose obligations on funds to obtain this information.⁷ Finally, the requirement to determine whether a customer is an associated person of another member also is unnecessary because NASD Conduct Rule 3050, which provides the obligations of executing members when the member knows that a person associated with an employing member has an interest in an account, expressly excludes accounts that are limited to transactions in mutual fund shares.

Of course members would be free to request Retail Customer Information from their customers to meet any other regulatory obligations that may exist.

3. Basis

NASD Regulations believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the provisions of Section 15A(b)(6) of the Act, which require, among other things, that the Association's rules be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest. NASD Regulation believes the proposed amendments to the Books and Records Rule that eliminate requirements to obtain Retail Customer Information for institutional accounts and accounts that are limited to mutual fund shares and for which no recommendations are made are consistent with these principles.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The NASD believes that the proposed rule change will not result in any burden on competition that is not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received From Members, Participants or Others

Comments were neither solicited nor received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

NASD Regulation has requested that the Commission find good cause pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) for approving the proposed rule change prior to the 30th day after publication in the Federal Register.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act.⁸ Persons making written submissions should file six copies thereof with the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 450 Fifth Street, NW., Washington, DC 20549. Copies of the submission, all subsequent amendments, all written statements with respect to the proposed rule change that are filed with the Commission, and all written communications relating to the proposed rule change between the Commission and any person, other than those that may be withheld from the public in accordance with the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 552, will be available for inspection and copying in the Commission's Public Reference Room. Copies of this filing will also be available for inspection and copying at the NASD. All submissions should refer to File No. SR-NASD-98-35 and should be submitted June 29, 1998.

V. Commission's Findings and Order Granting Accelerated Approval of the Proposed Rule Change

The Commission finds that the proposed rule change is consistent with the requirements of Section 15A(b)(6) of the Act and the rules and regulations thereunder which require, among other things, that the Association's rules be designed to prevent fraudulent and manipulative acts and practices, to promote just and equitable principles of trade, to foster cooperation and coordination with persons engaged in regulating, clearing, settling, processing information with respect to, and facilitating transactions in securities, to remove impediments to and perfect the mechanism of a free and open market, and, in general, to protect investors and the public interest. The Commission believes that the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act in that the proposed rule change protects investors and the public interest by preserving the current operation of the Books and Records Rule with respect to institutional accounts registered with the states. The proposed rule change also facilitates transactions in securities by eliminating requirements to obtain Retail Customer Information for institutional accounts and accounts that are limited to mutual fund shares for which no recommendations are made.

The Commission also finds good cause for approving the proposed rule change prior to the 30th day after publication of notice of filing thereof to ensure that the proposed rule change appropriately preserves the current operation of the Books and Records Rule and the Suitability Rule with respect to institutional accounts. The Commission believes, therefore, that granting accelerated approval of the proposed rule change is appropriate and consistent with the Act.

It is therefore ordered, pursuant to Section 19(b)(2) of the Act, that the proposed rule change, SR-NASD-97-35 be, and hereby is, approved on an accelerated basis.

For the Commission by the Division of Market Regulation, pursuant to delegated authority.⁹
