Discussion
On January 7, 2016, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) announced in Fee Rate Advisory #3 for Fiscal Year (FY) 2016, that effective February 16, 2016, the Section 31 fee rate applicable to specified securities transactions on the exchanges and in the over-the-counter markets will increase from its current rate of $18.40 per million dollars in transactions to a new rate of $21.80 per million dollars in transactions. Until that date, the current rate of $18.40 per million dollars will remain in effect.¹

Section 31 of the Exchange Act requires the SEC to annually adjust the fee rates applicable under Section 31, and in some circumstances, to also make a mid-year adjustment, after consultation with the Congressional Budget Office and the Office of Management and Budget. See the SEC’s January 7, 2016 order for more information about the fee rates for FY 2016.

The SEC will issue further notices as appropriate, and the notices will be posted on the SEC’s website at www.sec.gov.
FINRA obtains its Section 31 fees from member firms, in accordance with Section 3 of Schedule A to the By-Laws. Section 3 specifies that the amount assessed on firms will be determined periodically in accordance with Section 31 of the Exchange Act.

Endnotes

1. For purposes of FINRA calculations, the “charge date” is the trade date, not the settlement date. See 17 CFR 240.31(a)(3). Thus, the new rate will apply to applicable covered sales in the over-the-counter market with a trade date of February 16, 2016, or later.
