

Electronic Fingerprint Processing (EFP) enables FINRA to exchange information with the FBI electronically. Broker-Dealer firms submit hard and/or electronic fingerprint cards to FINRA for processing (see www.finra.org/efs for more information about electronic fingerprint submissions). FINRA forwards the fingerprint information electronically to the FBI. The FBI results are automatically uploaded to Web CRD®.

Things you should know about EFP

- ◆ Hardcopy fingerprints should be forwarded to:
FINRA
Attention: Document Services
9509 Key West Avenue
Rockville, MD 20850
- ◆ Fingerprint information can be accessed in Web CRD: <https://crd.finra.org>. Fingerprint submission results are generally posted in Web CRD within 72 business hours after the submission is sent to the FBI.
- ◆ Entitled users can view the FBI response to fingerprint submissions in View Individual. Users that have the required entitlement will have to select the Show Statuses button, Accept the special Terms and Conditions to view the status received from the FBI.
- ◆ Entitled users can access the dispositions of all fingerprints submitted by a firm electronically, via the Fingerprint Status Received from FBI Notice queue in Web CRD. Users who wish to view Criminal History Record Information (CHRI) must have View CHRI Information privileges.
- ◆ When FINRA receives the fingerprint submission from your firm and scans the submission for transmission to the FBI, the individual's registration status changes from Approved Pending Prints (or another appropriate status such as Deficient) to Approved Pending Results. Once the FBI result of either CLER or RAPP is posted to Web CRD, the individual's status is updated to Approved if the individual has no other deficiencies.
- ◆ To ensure accurate processing, all fingerprint submissions must include the firm's CRD number, the individual's CRD number, and the individual's social security number, if applicable. The submission must also include Sex, DOB, Place of Birth, Height, Weight, Hair and Eye Color.

Fingerprint Submission Process

◇ Initial Submission: When the firm submits a Form U4 for an individual and selects the first fingerprint option, the individual's registration status with fingerprint participating SROs becomes Approved Pending Prints (APPRNT). The firm has 30 days from the filing date to send a fingerprint submission for an individual; otherwise, the individual's registration status with fingerprint participating SROs updates to Inactive Prints (INACTIVE_PRINTS) and the individual cannot conduct activities requiring a securities registration.

If 2 years and 30 days pass with no fingerprint submission, the SRO registration status of the individual with fingerprint participating SROs updates to Terminated No U5 (T_NOU5). When FINRA receives the fingerprint submission prior to 2 years and 30 days from the initial filing date, the individual's registration status updates to Approved Pending Results (APRSLTS). At this time, the FINRA Fingerprint Fee is assessed and the fingerprint image is sent to the FBI.

The FBI fingerprint fee is assessed when the FBI result is posted to Web CRD. The individual's fingerprint status will depend on the result received. If the result is illegible (ILEG) or rejected (REJT), FINRA will systematically track the firm's fingerprint re-submission for that individual. Illegible and rejected submissions are not returned to firms. The individual's SRO registration status will update to Approved Pending Prints and the 30-day clock for submission will reset.

◇ Second Submission: When the first fingerprint submission to FINRA is determined by the FBI to be illegible, the second fingerprint submission to FINRA will only be assessed FINRA's Fingerprint Fee. The individual's registration status will become Approved Pending Results. If the fingerprint result is illegible or rejected a second time, the individual's SRO registration status will update to Approved Pending Prints and the 30-day clock for a third submission will begin.

◇ Third Submission: With the third fingerprint submission to FINRA, both the FINRA and the FBI fingerprint fees are assessed. The individual's registration status will become Approved Pending Results. If the result of the third submission is illegible, FINRA will update the individual's fingerprint status to Name Check Search for this individual (NMCK), and the individual's registration status will be Approved (assuming no other deficiencies). The FBI will use the individual's demographic information to check for any CHRI, and upon return of the FBI result, the Fingerprint Status will update to CLR, RAPX, CMPX, EXCX, or TERM as applicable. If the result of the third submission is REJT, the individual's registration status will update to Approved Pending Prints and the 30-day clock will reset.
